The End Of The Bulletin As We Know It

A sad goat for a sad day.

After 52 weeks as editor-in-chief of the Billy Bulletin, Zoe Walker, 21, has stepped down from her post, in a move that many say has been 'a long time coming'. There is some speculation as to whether this resignation is connected to the recent governmental elections, with opinion divided as to whether she chose to leave or was forced out by this regime change. For her fans, this signals the sad end of a glorious era of puns and witty banter. For the other 449 undergraduates of Fitzwilliam College, this is not a particularly big deal at all - perhaps even a mercy, as it means they can find out what's happening in Cambridge each week without having to plough through pages of misguided attempts at humour.

In a press release from Bulletin HQ, Walker claimed that she was 'both sad and a little relieved' at the prospect of leaving the publication after a year in office. She plans to use her retirement to spend more time with her family and her weekly essays.

The new government declined to comment on the allegations, as we didn't ask them.

Adventurous Education

Join us at Adventurous Education and lead our uniquely-Cambridge summer camps!

Who we are: We are a team of Cambridge alumni and students with the vision of a world in which high quality educational resources are accessed and shared freely across the borders. As the first step, we have organised and run our first series of Summer Programmes for secondary school students from China in 2015 and received passionate feedback from the participants and their parents on our excellent Mentors and programmes.

More about our camps: Our top priority is the quality of our participants' educational and cultural experience. We strive to design programmes with a balance of life-coaching, academic lessons and cultural experience, including day trips to nearby cities in the UK. We also unique in providing truly Cambridge experience, with all the Management and Mentors being current students/alumni of Cambridge and Cambridge-style lectures, supervisions, activities such as formal dinner, punting, and graduation.

We are currently recruiting for the following positions:

Mentor

Job description: You will work with other Mentors to design and lead activities and lessons in a 2 or 3 week summer camp in Cambridge. You will be given freedom to edit existing activities and lessons from last year or creatively design new ones. For your chosen lessons and activities, you will also be responsible for preparing other Mentors for the sessions. You will interact closely with the students and report their feedback at daily meetings.

Skills required: You should be a current student or a recent graduate of Cambridge University. You should have a strong passion for education and be willing to spend much time with teenagers. Team-work and organisational skills are essential, and teaching experience is also highly appreciated. Both native English speakers and mandarin speakers are welcome.

Secretary

Job description: As one of the three members in the management, you will help to keep the summer camps running smoothly. You will be in charge of the logistics, such as food, accommodation and transportation before and throughout the camps, as well as liaison between the management and teachers.

Skills required: You should be meticulous in nature, have good communication skills, and excellent planning and organisation skills.

Job starting date: early July

Duration: 2 or 3 weeks

Application deadline: 4th Feb 2016

Fitzwilliam Fine Arts Society

Dear Fitzbilly,

Are you a frustrated artist, missing the kind of space necessary for your craft? We have a college art room and are keen to use it once more and to revive our Fine Arts Society. If you are interested in painting, drawing, sculpture, digital media, photography or any other aspect of the visual arts, practical or otherwise, we hope this can be the space for you.

If you're interested, get in touch with Oliver Vanderpoorten (ov219@cam.ac.uk) or Elliot Harvie (etmh2@cam.ac.uk) for more information.

Investment Banking at Berenberg

Berenberg Bank, founded in 1590, is Germany's oldest private bank, and one of the oldest in the world. With its Head Office in Hamburg, Germany, and located in 17 offices around the world, it is one of the leading independent private banks in Europe. Through its four key business areas of Asset Management, Private Banking, Corporate Banking and Investment Banking, Berenberg is able to offer a broad range of services into corporations, investment institutions and private individuals.

In order to submit applications to either of the below programmes, please visit www.berenbergigp.com

INTERNATIONAL GRADUATE PROGRAMME 2016

At Berenberg we believe talented people are the key to our success. By consistently producing results, we have earned a reputation for quality work and attractive career opportunities.

Our meritocratic environment facilitates rapid advancement for our employees which is well known in the market. As a graduate on the International Programme you can look forward to significant business exposure, training and international opportunities.

We are looking to hire 30 outstanding graduates into our 15 month rotational programme which spans across all 4 divisions of the international Bank. This Programme provides the opportunity to gain length and breadth of experience of our offices and will expose you to a range of divisions and teams.

The International Programme consists of core and elected placements rotations giving you the opportunity to manage your own career whilst fulfil the business needs meaning you which will have a real impact. The core placements will develop your fundamental skills which will serve you well throughout your career. At the end of the 15 month Programme you will join one of the divisions full time. Initially based in London for a 6 week Induction and your first placement you will then have the opportunity to rotate internationally if you desire across some of our international offices e.g. New York, Boston, Zurich, Paris, Hamburg and Frankfurt.

Finally, you will become part of a larger academy provided by Berenberg to invest in your development and help you build a long-term and successful career in the firm.

CAPITAL MARKETS INTERNSHIP 2016

Within Investment Banking, the Capital Markets division comprises of Research, Sales and Sales Trading teams, located in London, Hamburg, Paris, Zurich, Frankfurt, New York and Boston. Our London team is a key part of the Capital Markets business and a driving force of growth in the group. The team comprises an experienced and dynamic group of Equity Research

Analysts and Sales people.

The business is increasingly focussed on large cap companies under a sector approach, whilst maintaining its well-recognised, and award winning, historic focus on small & mid cap companies.

OUR LONDON INTERN PROGRAMME

Berenberg are looking to hire interns into our rapidly growing London office, more specifically into the Equity Research team. The internship will last for 8 weeks, during which you will be assigned to one of the London based business areas where you will be given comprehensive training as well as being allocated a 'mentor' with whom you can discuss any queries or teaching points.

Interns will be paired up with a senior team member and will assist them in analysis of the sector, producing research notes and presentations.

You will also be collating relevant market macro and micro news-flow on a timely basis.

The programme will be demanding, but rewarding and fun and will provide an excellent opportunity to gain a comprehensive overview of Berenberg in London, as well as an understanding of how the different divisions interact. Stand-out interns may be fast-tracked for the 2016/2017

International Graduate Programme.
