

FITZWILLIAM COLLEGE JCR FRESHERS HANDBOOK

YOUR GUIDE TO
STARTING OUT AT FITZ
HERE IN OCTOBER

A huge congratulations on securing your place, and a very big welcome to Fitz!

Before you arrive, we're sure you want to find out as much about your new home as possible, and so a bunch of current students ('the JCR') have made a handy guide on life here at Fitz to complement all of the official information you've been provided by college. It contains all things Fitz, including what we think you need to bring, what to expect when you get here, and practical tips and tricks to help you through Freshers' Week and beyond.

Moving to University is an exciting experience, but it can also be a daunting one. If you're unsure or worried about anything at all, no matter how small a deal it may seem, please ask us (we genuinely mean that), there are no stupid questions! We were in the same position as you two years ago! All of our contact details are all conveniently listed here: <http://fitzjcr.com/contact>. You can send any questions you have anonymously through this link or via an anonymous Google form (<https://forms.gle/rxvdXGBjVsrtBusx9>: and our answers will be posted on the Facebook page.

Together, we run the JCR and the committee and will be around (along with the rest of the committee) in our jumpers/hoodies during Fresher's Week to ensure everything runs smoothly. More information on what the JCR actually is and does can be found within this booklet as well as online at www.fitzjcr.com. It provides a HUGE amount of constantly updated information about life at Fitz and regular updates on what's happening in and around College.

On top of this booklet, you should soon be hearing from your college parents – these are second or third year students already at Fitz who'll be able to answer any other queries that you might have. If you don't hear anything by mid- September, please contact either me or Emily and we'll have you sorted!

And finally, to get to know other Freshers and start receiving more informal updates from us please join your cohort's very own Facebook group – <https://www.facebook.com/groups/665359773880092/?ref=share>

This group has been set up specifically for your intake so use it as you please. We'll be posting to provide updates on Fresher's Week and year specific events for the year to follow, but this group is entirely your domain. Following on from this please also make sure to join the 'Official Fitz Group', <https://www.facebook.com/groups/fitzgroup/?ref=share>, a group for all undergraduates at Fitz. This group is used as an informal communication platform to keep you up to date with various events, information and college updates – definitely join now to make sure you don't miss out on anything later in the year! We can't wait to meet you all in October – hope you all have a lovely end to your Summers! We can't wait to finally see you all!

WELCOME!

There's a First (Day) For Everything...

So...
it's the first day and you're probably wondering where to begin?

Most Freshers arrive on the first Saturday of full term which happens to be on the 5th October this year, and this is when the Freshers' Week timetable begins. However, international students and those on preterm courses will arrive earlier and you will be contacted separately about this. It's advised not to arrive any earlier than 11am on the Saturday, as there are other year groups arriving at that point and this could cause further congestion around College.

When you arrive at Fitz it's best for you and your luggage to be dropped off at the Porters' Lodge on Storey's Way (the South Plodge) and get your family to park up elsewhere, greater details will be given in the run up to Freshers' week about the first day process. They can then come back to Fitz to help you settle into room whilst the Freshers Team help you to move all your luggage.

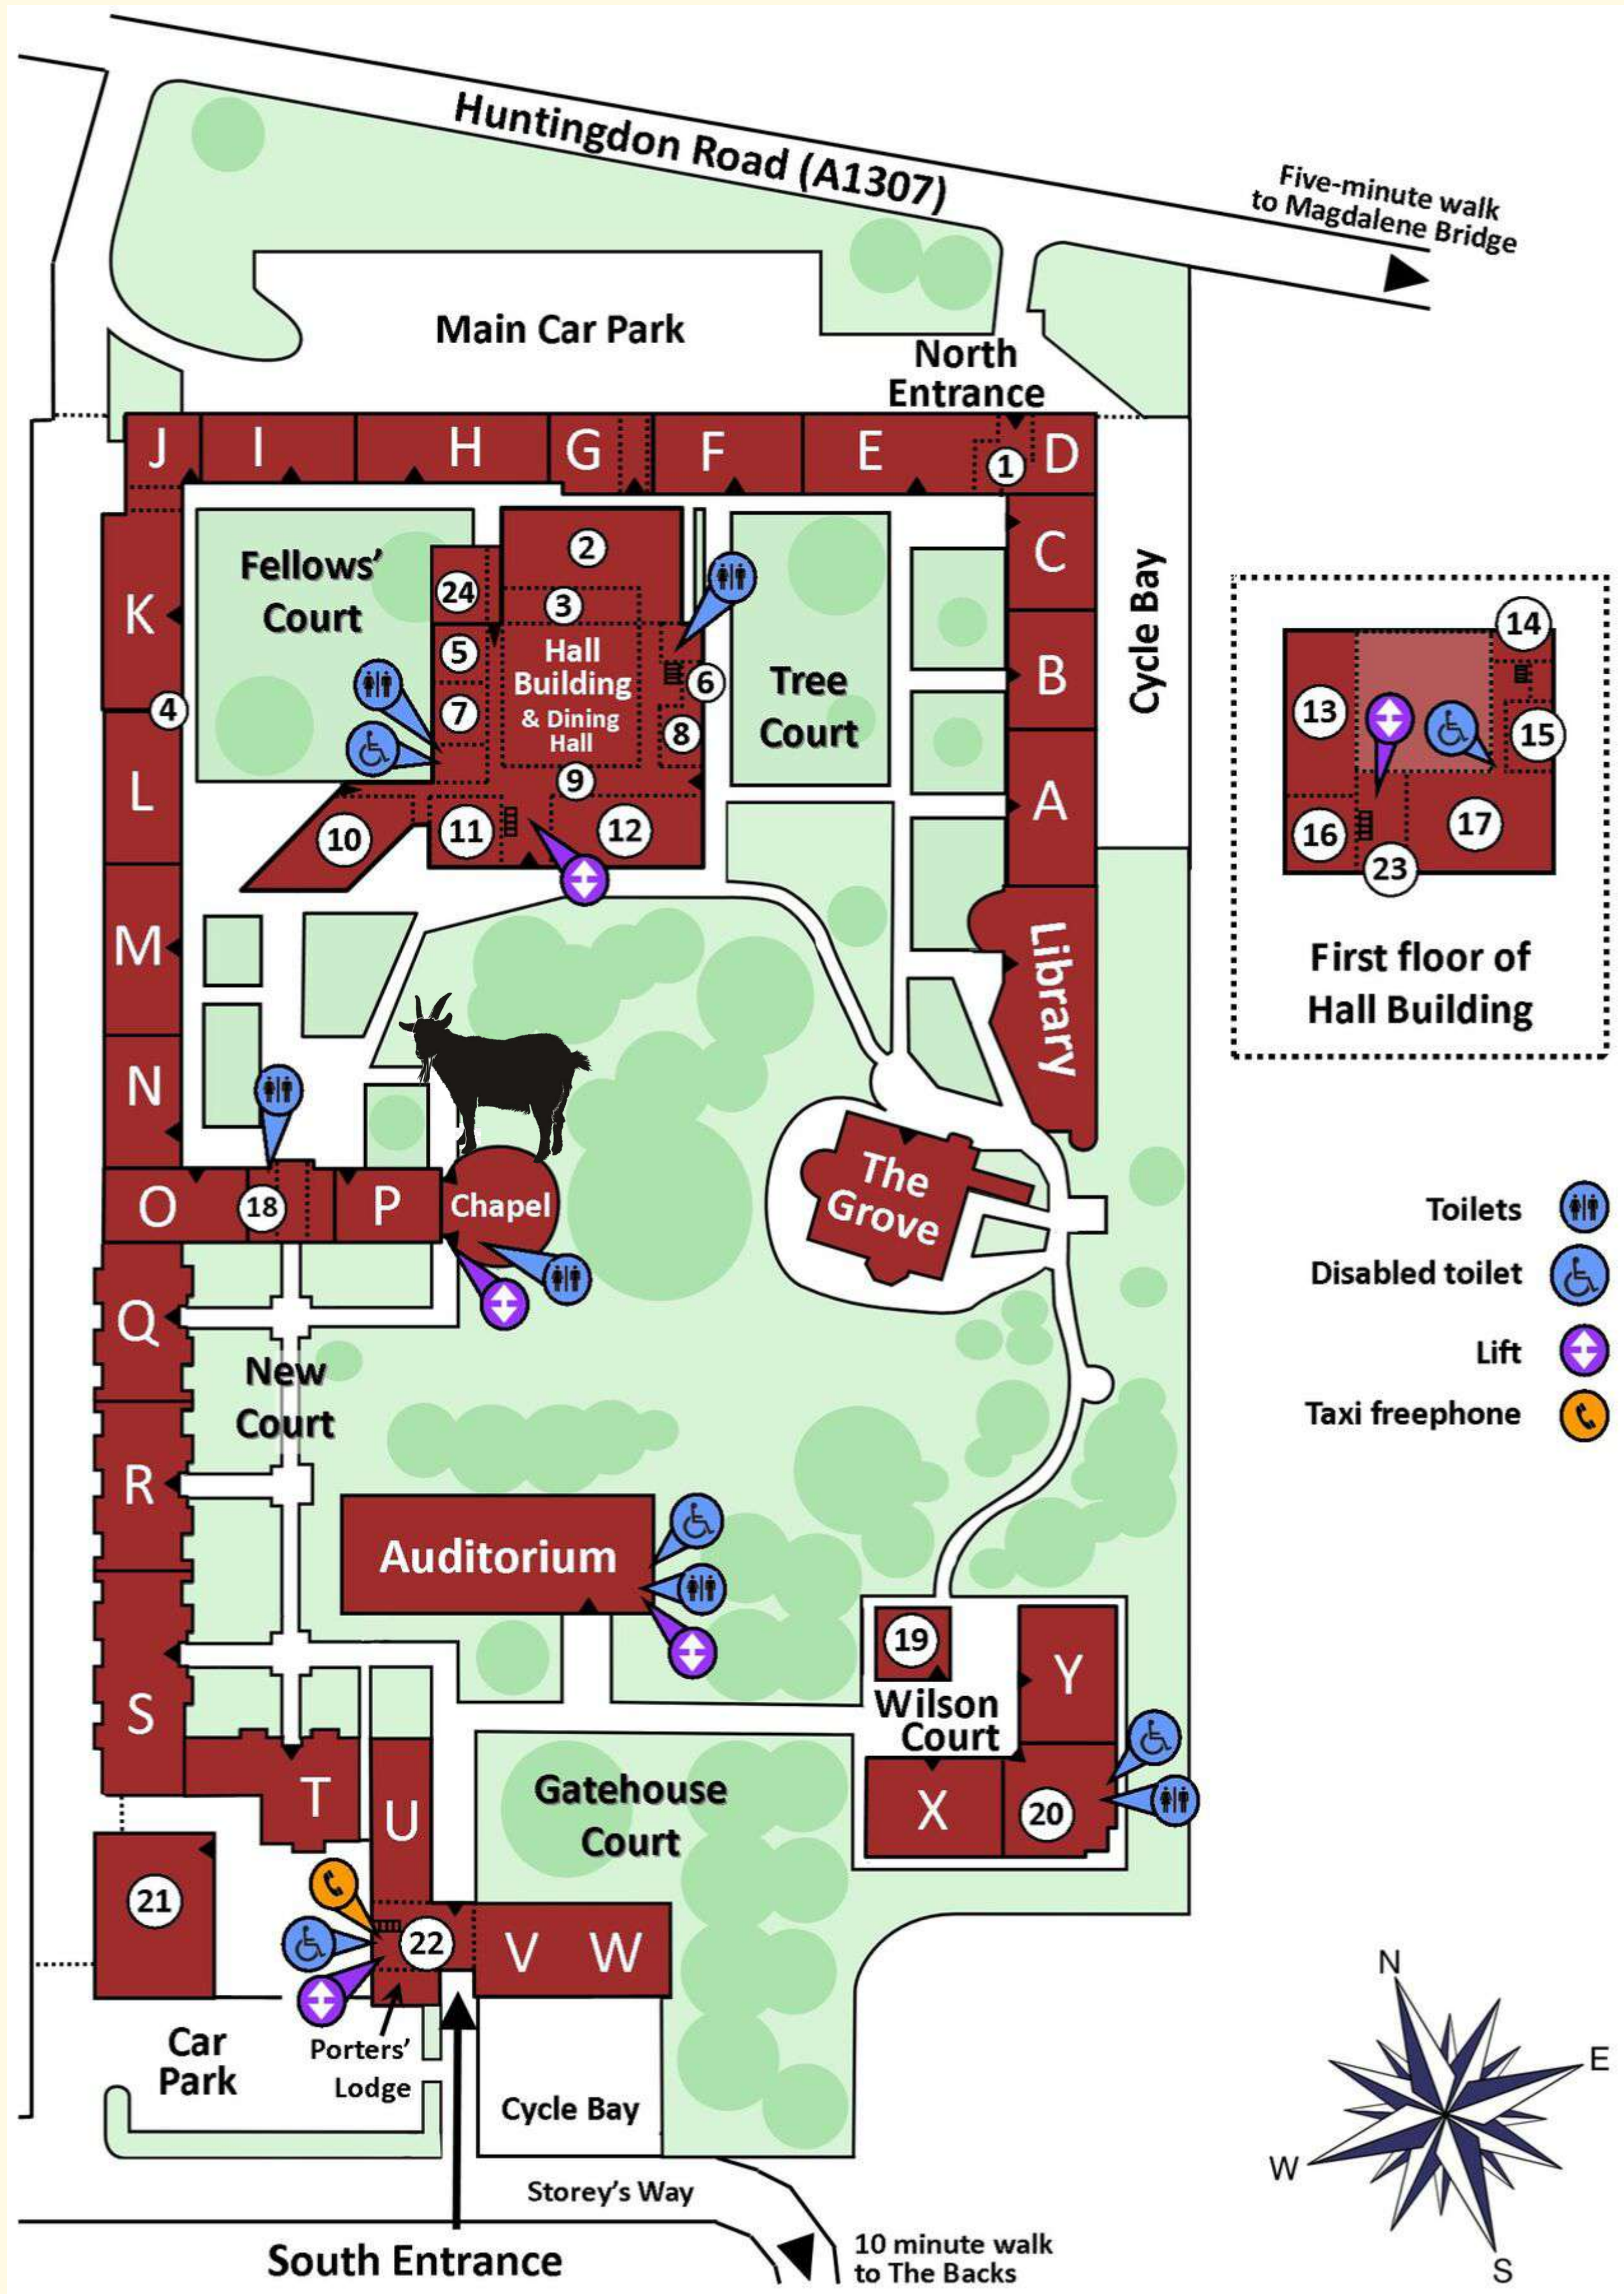

Once you arrive at the South Plodge on the 5th, one of the JCR Committee members will take you to pick up your keys and student card as well as sign your room contract (hold on to that!). You'll then be shown to your room where you can unpack.

In the afternoon, the corridor reps will pay your corridor a visit and your Freshers' Week timetable will begin.

N.B. At some point on your first day it's wise to check your pigeonhole - this is a small mail slot next to the Porters Lodge where your post/advertising will be delivered. In it, you will find more important information from College which complements this guide.

COLLEGE MAP

MEET THE JCR ⁵

The JCR is the College's own Student Union, something that every college in Cambridge has. It is an independent group of annually elected undergraduates who provide a voice for the student body and a link between you and the staff and fellows. Roles range from Entertainment Officers to Welfare, and we're here to support almost every aspect of College life, and will also be around during Freshers' Week to help you settle in and have good time! We aim to make Fitz the friendliest, most exciting, and quite simply the best College to be at in Cambridge. The committee organises regular events such as bops and ents (see the Cambridge Glossary!), live music nights, sports tournaments, welfare massages, college campaigns, pub quizzes and more!

We also oversee a range of services including the maintenance of the Common and 'TV' rooms, so if there's anything you think needs improving please let us know! The JCR is genuinely always here to help, so should you have any problems in Freshers' Week or during the entirety of your time here at Fitz, don't ever hesitate to ask for help. The JCR Committee will be introducing themselves to you at the beginning of Freshers' Week, and will be there on your first day to help you move in. In the meantime, if you have any questions, feel free contact us! Further details of each of our roles can be found on the website.

Meet your JCR Team here:

LEADERSHIP

The President runs the JCR and is responsible for making sure the committee is doing its best to support and represent the undergraduate community to College authorities and external bodies. Practically this includes chairing fortnightly committee meetings and running college campaigns to make the college work better for students. This years campaigns have been centred around fighting for the living wage for college staff, scrapping the scholars ballot, divestment from fossil fuels, and The President also produces a weekly newsletter, which is both trivial and informative about what is going on in Fitz, wider Cambridge and any relevant opportunities.

President -
Ellie Brain -
(jcr.president@fitz.cam.ac.uk)
Vice-President
- Emily Insanally -
(jcr.vice.president@fitz.cam.ac.uk)

The Vice-President works closely with the President, and is in charge of dealing with accommodation, domestic and catering concerns, as well as organising the College parenting system and the annual housing ballot. They're both always happy to lend an ear if you have a problem of any kind.

TREASURER & ACADEMIC AFFAIRS 7

Treasurer - Andrew Salkeld -

(jcr.treasurer@fitz.cam.ac.uk)

Academic

Affairs Officer - Poppy Blackshaw -

(jcr.academic@fitz.cam.ac.uk)

The Treasurer is in charge of the committee's budget, ensuring that we can hold all sorts of events throughout the year without having to worry about money for food, drinks and props running out.

The Academic Affairs Officer's job is to ensure that your academic experience at Fitz is the best it can be. This means ensuring your time studying is healthy, productive and tailored as much as possible to your needs. They also convey any of your academic opinions and concerns to College to make change happen.

TARGET & ACCESS

Target and Access Sub-Committee – Zayn
Richards and Marc Foxhall (who is also our Class
Act Representative) -
(jcr.access.subcomm@fitz.cam.ac.uk)

Fitzwilliam was originally set up as an access college, allowing bright students who could not afford a Cambridge education the chance to study at the University. Our Target and Access Officers look to build on this heritage and work closely with school and college students from non-traditional Oxbridge backgrounds, as well as providing resources for current Fitz students to take back to their old schools and spread the word, with the aim of breaking down the myths surrounding Cambridge and encouraging applications from students of all backgrounds. This year they're also working on hosting Fitz's very own shadowing scheme. All undergraduates are welcome to get involved and work at College Open Days. You don't have to be on the JCR or state schooled to help out with Target and Access at Fitz!

ClassAct Group (for those who identify from class act backgrounds only) see here: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/2163215770656259/?ref=share>

Although not technically on the JCR or necessarily undergraduates, the Sports & Societies team still remain a vital part of student support and representation. They help to coordinate the running of societies and sports teams and encourage student participation in them. They also organise an annual five-a-side football tournament in exam term.

FANCY BEING PART OF THE JCR?

Elections for the JCR Committee are held at the end of Michaelmas Term each year, giving you the chance to get involved early in your career here at Fitz. Being on the JCR is a great chance to change and influence the way in which College works. All you need to do in order to run is produce a poster and give a short speech about why you should be elected, followed by a short Q&A session. You can also attend fortnightly JCR Open Meetings, without being on the committee. You are allowed to put forward agenda points and contribute to the discussion, but you will not be allowed to vote. More information about the election process will be sent out closer at the time.

THE MAIN PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ¹⁴

Mrs Sally Morgan, The Master

Sally is starting her journey at Fitzwilliam College at the exact same time as you, with her appointment taking place earlier this year. Sally chairs major committees which determine College policies, and leads the work we all do to raise the profile of the College (and money!). You'll see her presiding over various dinners and events, but she also hopes to meet all of you individually. A Labour member of the House of Lords and a former Chair of Ofsted, Sally is the 9th Master of Fitzwilliam College. Sally is based in the Master's Lodge, over the road from the Porters' Lodge - Don't be shy to say hi if you see her wandering around college! You can contact her via masters.secretary@fitz.cam.ac.uk

Dr Paul Chirico, The Senior Tutor - The Grove

The Senior Tutor has overall responsibility for the education and welfare of all undergraduates. You are welcome to discuss general or individual problems with him (it could be a good idea to talk to your tutor or director of studies first) and the best way to make an appointment is by email. Telephone: 01223 332 027

senior.tutor@fitz.cam.ac.uk

Assistant to the Senior Tutor (Claire Claydon):

st.assistant@fitz.cam.ac.uk

Andrew Powell,

The Bursar - W staircase

The Bursar is the Chief Financial and Administrative Officer of the College. With the Governing Body's oversight, he is responsible for strategic planning for and takes a lead role in the management of the College's endowment. The Bursar is also responsible for property and, ultimately, the domestic aspects of the College. The Domestic Bursar, to whom the role delegates, reports to the Bursar.

Telephone: 01223 332 067

Bursar's Assistant (Natalie Harvey):

bursars.assistant@fitz.cam.ac.uk

Bursar (Andrew Powell): bursar@fitz.cam.ac.uk

Dr Kourosch Saeb-Parsy - The Dean - You don't want to find out!

The Dean deals with all disciplinary matters. It's a good idea to keep on the right side of him by not breaking the College Regulations (i.e. doing something really stupid). If you get 'deaned' (summoned to a formal meeting), you could be looking at a fine, community service or even a bar ban (the college's version of an ASBO). Thankfully, this doesn't happen very often. The Dean will introduce themselves in Freshers' Week. And you most likely won't.

COLLEGE FAMILIES

The College family system is a fantastic support system for all undergraduates in Cambridge.

At Fitz JCR Vice-President Emily will randomly allocate you and another student (your ‘sibling’) to two ‘College parents’ who will contact you before you arrive – these are two students in their second or third year who kind of act as your mentors; they have been there, done it and lived to tell the tale. Of course, as they also had College parents before they arrived you will probably have four grandparents in their 3rd year/ 4th year. It all gets very confusing, but it is a great way to meet students in different years as well as your own before you’ve even arrived at Cambridge. Your family are often some of the first members of other years that you get to know really well when you arrive, and they can act as a very useful support network. Also, at least one of your parents will be doing your subject so they will be able to provide very helpful academic advice.

Of course, to be ‘college married’ (yes, we actually hold a joke ‘ceremony’ in the JCR after a ‘famous couples’ themed Superhall close to Valentine’s day), you need to propose! Proposals usually take place throughout Michaelmas and early Lent terms. Now of course you could just ask your chosen partner/victim if they’ll College marry you, but where’s the fun in that? Stage a flash-mob, bring in a brass band, write them a poem, send them on a scavenger hunt – the possibilities are endless! Make them an offer they simply can’t refuse! But choose wisely... no one wants to end up in an unhappy marriage!

ACCOMMODATION

First years are nearly all accommodated in Tree Court, the closest to the bar and the library. If you're not in one of the A, B, C, E or F Corridors that make up Tree Court you'll be 20 seconds walk away in M Corridor.

All rooms have: a wardrobe (with shelves and hanging space), a shower (semi en-suite), a desk (with drawers) and a desk lamp, a bed with a pillow (although those in the know bring their own pillow too), a chair (sometimes two), a mirror, shelves, a radiator, an Ethernet cable, a pin board – BYOP (bring your own pins)

Corridors have between 5 and 10 rooms on them. Each corridor will have at least two toilets and a kitchen. The kitchen has at least four hobs, an oven, a fridge, microwave, toaster and kettle for communal use. If you desire a single sex corridor you can indicate so in accommodation forms you will be sent shortly or have already been sent to you.

Staircases A,B and C

Some of you lucky souls will find that you've been allocated a room in the refurbished freshers' accommodation, which feature a new common room and kitchen area- so no more eating pasta in the corridor or, at your desk hunched over your laptop! Yay! This accommodation has been refurbished over the past few summers at a great expense and College have really hammered home to us the importance of taking care of it! Because they are certain of the condition of the rooms, they will be charging residents for any damages made - this includes any markings made by any posters/decorations you chose to put up on walls (a charge of £50 per wall has been suggested).

Problems with your room:

If you have an issue which requires urgent attention e.g. a burst pipe or a blown light bulb, contact the Porters' Lodge ASAP. If it's a general maintenance request e.g. a blocked shower or you have no heating, Fitz has an online Helpdesk to make the process easier: Here you'll be able to track the progress and see who will be attending to the problem. Log onto... <https://services.fitz.cam.ac.uk/FIP/live/index.php?r=helpdesk>. Login using your Raven details. Scroll over 'Helpdesk' and click 'Report New Problem'. Try and give as much detail as you can! If you're having problems with any maintenance or domestic requests that aren't being solved, let us know!

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

When do I hear about College accommodation?

You will be sent a form from the Admissions Office after your place has been confirmed detailing the prices of a room and length of contract required for the upcoming academic year. Please note, whilst the College will try and allocate you a room based on your preference, not everyone will get their first choice room.

When do I find out what room I've been allocated?

Here's the fun bit, you only find out when you arrive! It's a massive administrative exercise to co-ordinate accommodation for 475 undergraduates and we have been told it is not possible for students to be informed before then.

Should I go for a 29, 33 or 37 week contract?

The academic year in Cambridge is divided into 3 'full terms' – Michaelmas, Lent and Easter. Within these terms there are 8 full weeks of official teaching time which begin on the first Thursday and end on the last Thursday of the 'full term'. Here are the full term dates for the upcoming academic year:

Full Michaelmas term: Thursday 10 Oct - Thursday 5 Dec

Full Lent term: Thursday 16 Jan - Thursday 12 Mar

Full Easter term: Thursday 16 April - Thursday 11 Jun

It is generally expected that you will remain in Cambridge during these dates. However, you are able to live in Fitzwilliam outside of 'full term'. Fitz has its own 'residency period' which dictates when the majority of students can live in College. The dates of the Fitz residency period are as follows:

Full Michaelmas term residency period: Sat 5th October – Sat 14th December

Full Lent term residency period: Sat 12 th Jan - Sat 21st March

Full Easterterm residency period: Sat 11th April - Sat 20th Jun

29 weeks: You are permitted to stay/leave things in your room during the residency periods only. All belongings must be removed during the vacations.

33 weeks: You are permitted to stay/leave things in your room during the residency periods and the Easter vacation. Your room must be vacated for the Christmas Vacation.

37 weeks: You are permitted to stay/leave things in your room during the residency period and the Christmas and Easter vacations. Your room must only be vacated at the end of the year.

So your choice of contract comes down to your personal circumstances. It should be noted that if you opt for a 29 or 33 week contract, you can still stay in College outside of the residency period. However, this will be subject to room availability and you will almost certainly have to move to a different room (as the rooms are rented out to conference guests in advance). Instructions will be sent towards the end of each term.

Can I stay in College over the summer vacation?

This is subject to room availability, but normally you will be able to stay in a nearby College house.

Instructions will be sent from the Accommodation Office at the end of the year.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Some small things...

Overnight guests should be signed in with the porters, and folding beds can be obtained from the Housekeeping and Accommodation office for a small fee. There are also guest rooms available should your family be visiting.

Your cleaner will empty your bin every day if you put it outside, clean the toilets and replace the loo roll, and Hoover your room once a week (if it's tidy...). They won't make your bed or do your washing up.

Rent Allowance: All undergraduates in receipt of a College Maintenance Bursary (see the next section) are eligible for rent allowance of £20 per night for residence in the College outside the standard 29 week residence period, up to an annual total of 14 nights. Rent allowance will be automatically credited to your account following the corresponding period of residence.

Pro Tip: Do not go mad on your packing, you have to be conscious that you may have a limited amount of space in your room. Your storage spaces are adequate but be reasonable (you don't literally have to chuck in the kitchen sink too...).

WHAT TO BRING

- Laptop
- Room decorations (photographs are always nice)

- Crockery, cutlery, mugs
- Toiletries
- Bedding (you can borrow college bedding but most people bring their own duvet/pillows/sheets)
- Paperwork (Student finance letters, ID, NHS Details, all college correspondence, Exam Certificates)
- Clothes (mostly informal but you will need something nice for matriculation dinner/photographs! Most people wear black and white for matriculation but there is no strict rules on what to wear. A good coat is useful as it can get very cold in Cambridge during winter!)
- Bicycle: If you intend to cycle you can either bring a bike with you or buy one

WHAT NOT TO BRING

- Kettle/toaster
- Printer
- Freshers Tickets from providers other than Fitz JCR (Henry Sainsbury)
- Furniture
- Gown
- Software e.g. Microsoft Office
- A car

LAUNDRY

Now here comes the patronising part where we tell you how to suck eggs, but laundry is a vital part of your college life, make sure you know how the whole system works before you get here. And with it comes a totally non-patronising diagram of how to conduct your own laundry too...

The laundry room is found next to the bottom of F staircase. It contains ten washing machines, six tumble dryers, and an electric iron and board. The washers and dryers are both token-operated and the dryers in particular are enormous, so it sometimes makes sense to find someone to share the load with or save up your laundry and do a massive bunch at once). Washing and drying tokens may be purchased from the Porters' Lodge 24/7 (USING CASH ONLY) or the café or bar when they are open (you can use your University card or cash) - you'll probably need three drying tokens to dry a load. Washing tokens are £2.50 and drying tokens are £0.80 each. Don't forget to bring your own washing powder - capsules are probably easiest. Colour catchers are great for enabling to put all your colours in the same wash, and can be purchased from any supermarket! Otherwise, do not mix whites and colours. Washes last for approx. 40 minutes while one drying token on its own takes 12 minutes. You can insert multiple tokens at once so you don't have to keep going back! Finally, a new bunch of tokens were purchased last year so there should be an adequate amount to purchase at whatever time - please do not hoard the tokens, the older years ter

Here are some extremely patronising hints to make the whole laundry process as painless as possible for those who previously left it to mum and dad:

- Take a laundry basket / big bag, etc. to carry all your stuff there (IKEA bags are perfect).
- If you leave your washing in a dryer for too long, someone will probably put it on top of the dryer and use it themselves.
- Each drying token lasts 12 minutes, so try and work out when it will finish. You can use multiple tokens in the dryer, but press START after putting each one in. Otherwise, you will be wasting your money. (This will make more sense when you get there and see the machines yourself).
- Check whether you can put something in a tumble dryer first by looking on the label- (a circle in a square with a cross through it means you can't).
- Never put a fleece in the tumble dryer.

CYCLING

It's no secret that Fitz is one of the more distant Colleges – a 10 to 15 minute walk to town suddenly turns into years by Cambridge standards. This means that cycling is often the fastest, cheapest, and safest way of getting around on your own. There are a lot of cyclists in Cambridge who play a key part in reducing congestion and help to give it a unique feel.

One thing which is particularly important to think about is what type of bicycle to use or buy in Cambridge. Cambridge is very flat so you do not need many gears (although Fitz does happen to be on the on Castle Hill—the highest point in Cambridge), and three speed city bikes are very popular and practical. If you have brought a valuable bike with you, you might consider investing in some good quality locks. Cycle theft is the most common crime affecting Cambridge students, so don't spend more than £200 unless you are willing to invest at least 20% of the cost of the bike on locks.

There are lots and lots of bike shops in Cambridge, although the quality of bikes marketed at students can vary enormously. As a rule-of-thumb you might want to spend £170–230 brand new, or £60–100 second hand. While cheaper bikes are certainly available, be a little wary of special deals where a mountain bike will be sold to you complete with lights, lock and a basket—these bikes can be unsuited for on-road riding, and the locks which come with them may be cheap, and therefore easy to break through.

There is plenty of choice out there and you will be able to find a bike that suits you. Cambridge is full of bike shops. Most shops will offer a discount if you ask nicely, but the following shops offer a student discount with your Cambridge ID:

- 5% of repairs at The Bikeman, Market Square.
- 10% off goods at Howes Cycles, Regent St.
- 10% off accessories at Mike's Bikes, Mill Road.
- 10% discount at Blazing Saddles, Cherry Hinton Road.
- 10% discount on accessories (excluding plugs and oils) at Wilco Motor Spares, Mill Road.
- 5% off new bikes, 10% off spares, accessories and clothing, 20% off labour charges at Townsends Light Blue, Cycle centre, 72 Chesterton Street.

Cambridge Cycle Centre on Botolph Lane offers good value for money second-hand bikes. There should also be plenty of cycle companies represented at CUSU'S Societies Fair (see the 'Clubs and Societies' section).

Registering your bike as well as other valuable items, such as your laptop, iPod or mobile phone, will make it easier to get it back if it gets stolen. The University also requires all students to register their bicycles with their College (you'll get more information about this during Freshers Week) and it is worth registering with Immobilise, the national property website at www.immobilise.com - a service used by all UK Police forces. Of all the bicycles recovered by the Police, only 10-30% are registered.

If you turn your bicycle upside down you should find a reference code stamped into the frame (usually at the point where the pedals go through). Use this code and a picture of your bike to help register it on Immobilise, having a picture is useful to prove ownership for insurance purposes.

CYCLING SAFETY

Prepare for some things you already know... Cycle safety is about more than equipment (although wearing a helmet is super important)-it's about being able to cycle safely and confidently. Here are some tips which, with a bit of practice, will soon make you into a confident and safe Cambridge cyclist:

- You are LEGALLY required to have bike lights. Make sure you have a white bike light for the front of your bike, and a red light for the back. The brighter the light, the better.
- When turning, signal clearly by sticking out your arm wide on the direction you are about to travel.
- Always look behind you for other vehicles before turning and changing direction.
- Never go through red traffic lights and think carefully about when you're about to go through an amber signal.
- Do not try and overtake large vehicles on the left-hand side when traffic is stationary, as you may find them turning into you, or the space between you and them narrowing suddenly.
- Consider using cycle lanes, paths and routes where available, as they can sometimes make your journey safer.
- Never cycle after drinking (it's against the law - don't get pulled over after a few cheeky drinks at a different college...).

For more useful information, check this page out: <http://www.studentadvice.cam.ac.uk/welfare/cycling/>

There are Cycle Safety Seminars organised by the JCR which the College strongly recommends you attend. Even if you are an experienced cyclist, cycling in Cambridge can be an entirely different beast. The seminars are free to attend and will last about an hour. Details will be sent out soon!

FINANCE

University can be expensive, and it's important to budget whilst here. Fortunately, because of the short terms and the amount of financial aid available from the College, living and studying in Cambridge can often work out cheaper than pretty much everywhere else.

Your College Bill: Your College bill is the first thing you receive when you arrive, and the last thing you get before you graduate. How poetic. Here's what it'll include:

Room rent:

Charged per term, you can expect to pay between £132.50 p/w and £148.00 p/w. This rent includes the use of washing and toilet facilities (but soaps/cleaning products etc. are not provided), shared kitchen space, heating, power and lighting, daily cleaning of common areas, weekly cleaning of bedrooms, and IT services via the College network, with unlimited internet usage. Your rent will also include Personal Possessions Insurance (also see below).

Personal Possessions Insurance:

This is included as part of your rent at the rate of £0.33 per week and is here to safeguard you against theft. It's very cheap as you can't opt out, but you can top it up if you need more cover. For more detailed information on what this includes, follow this link: <https://www.fitz.cam.ac.uk/college-life/accommodation/personal-possessions-insurance>.

Kitchen Fixed Charge:

At £178 per term, the KFC is your contribution to the costs of the College's catering operations: essentially, it's what allows us to have our very own College Buttery with subsidised food.

Minimum Meals

Charge: The Minimum Meals Charge is £77.80. This is the amount per term that you pay in advance for Buttery food: think of it as credit for Buttery meals. It's to ensure the catering department have a certain turnover, whether or not you chose to eat there. You can also use this credit in the café, but not the bar.

Food and drink:

Everything you buy at the College Buttery (including formal halls or club dinners), café or bar (except what is covered by the Minimum Meals Charge) will appear on your college bill as 'EPOS CHARGES'. EPOS stands for electronic point of sale. This basically means that all food and drink in College – including drinks at the bar – can be paid for using your University card instead of cash, so it's easy to spend more than you realise: keep an eye on your spending to avoid a nasty shock when your next College bill arrives! See more information about this in the 'Eating in Fitz' section.

Fitzwilliam Society membership:

The Fitzwilliam Society is the College alumni society. Life membership is £72, which is paid in termly instalments of £8 for your (first) three years at Fitz. The society does a lot for students past and present including organising the annual societies fair. Find out more here: <http://www.fitz.cam.ac.uk/alumni/fitzwilliam-society>.

Copying and printing charges:

The College has a 'FindMe' electronic printing system which allows you to wirelessly connect your device to any College printer. These costs will also appear on your bill as 'COPYING/PRINTING'.

OTHER CHARGES

Fitzwilliam deposit:

This is a one-off payment of £150, paid upon matriculation and returned upon graduation. College invests this money over the duration of your course and interest on it is added to the funds made available for financial assistance, travel grants and awards.

Accident Transport Fund (also known as the College Taxi Scheme):

This is based on an agreement College has with local cab firm 'Panther Taxis'. Fitzwilliam students pay £10 annually to this scheme which covers the cost of necessary taxi journeys e.g. when injury or serious illness prevents you travelling independently between Fitzwilliam College and Departments of the University. Another legitimate use of the taxi service is in the event that you feel returning to College late at night poses a genuine safety or security risk, or in the event of an emergency. The scheme will also cover the costs of you being sent back to the College from hospital. If you feel you will need regular taxis paid for under this scheme, please contact the tutorial office before your arrival who will be able to advise you. Similarly, contact the office if you develop an injury whilst you are here. In an emergency, call for a 'Panther cab' on 01223 715715 and take it to Fitzwilliam's Porters Lodge. You can either obtain an emergency slip from the Porters at the end of the journey, or pay the taxi fare in cash, obtain a receipt from the taxi driver, and request later reimbursement via your College account or in cash from the Accounts office. It may be necessary to obtain approval from your Tutor. The College staff member issuing the slip (or providing the refund) will always require details of the reason for the journey. This Fund is supported by students and it is important that it is not abused. In the case of security risks and emergencies, Tutors will wish to judge whether the journey was necessary, and the extent to which the need for transport could have been foreseen.

That being said, hopefully you'll never need it, but it's here if you do! If you encounter any problems using the scheme, please let a JCR member know. You pay for it, so it should work for you!

You can pay your College bill by cheque or direct transfer to the College's bank account (details will be provided with your first bill). However, College's preferred method of payment (as it's easier to track) is via the online facility using a debit or credit card. In order to do this, you need your Raven details (see the 'Computing in Fitz' section). To pay your bill online visit <https://collegebills.fitz.cam.ac.uk/collegebill/> and follow the on-screen instructions. You'll get a bill near the start of each term which will show your bill breakdown and the link to pay for it.

THE COST OF LIVING

Firstly, it's worth saying that there is a vast array of financial support on offer from the College and University. They want you to focus on your studies, not on your bank balance, and finance is not a major worry for the majority of students.

That being said, budgeting is a useful skill to develop! There is an Aldi/Iceland complex only five minutes' walk from the North Plodge – our closest supermarkets and certainly the cheapest.

The Bursar suggests a termly budget of around £1000, to cover food, books (the University has 114 libraries so most of you won't have to buy these), and entertainment etc. outside of the regular charges to your College bill. Obviously this depends heavily upon your lifestyle and circumstances: drink only water and you might not need so much; drink only champagne and you might need a little more.

All of this might sound like a lot, but fortunately there are a number of different ways to bolster your bank account and bypass difficulties whilst in Cambridge.

GRANTS AND LOANS

Government maintenance loans:

In what are obviously your first port of call, these are issued by the Student Loans Company for most 'Home' (UK/EU) students. They will arrive shortly after (but not as soon as) you arrive in College. In order for you to get this money, you must make sure to sign the Redit Book (see the glossary) when you arrive each term so that College can tell Student Finance that you are in attendance.

University/College Maintenance Bursaries:

The University and College distribute various generous maintenance funds. More details of these can be found on the University and College websites and in the tutorial handbook.

The Cambridge Bursary Scheme(<http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/univ/cambridgebursary/>):

If you are a UK/EU student and your household income is below £42,620 you are likely to be eligible for an annual Cambridge Bursary of up to £3,500 per year.

Fitzwilliam College Maintenance Bursaries:

Thanks to the generosity of alumni of the College and other donors, the College is able to award Maintenance Bursaries to UK/EU and overseas students in particular financial need.

Travel grants:

In the Christmas and Easter vacations, these are given for travel directly related to a student's course; in the long vacation they are also given for 'generally educational' trips. The money has to go somewhere, so don't hesitate to apply!

Hardship Funds:

There is an extensive programme of financial support to ensure Cambridge students can meet the cost of their education, regardless of background. The University and Colleges have made a commitment that 'no publicly funded UK/EU student should have to leave because of financial difficulties'. If you find yourself in financial difficulties, your Tutor should be your first point of contact. He or she should point you in the direction of the various hardship funds on offer and support your application to them.

A Job:

With your tutor's consent, you're allowed to undertake paid employment during the residency period, up to a maximum of 6 hours per week on average. However, very few people have a term time job in actuality (terms are only 8 weeks long in any case!), and one shouldn't be necessary. Whilst you can work in the 28 weeks a year in which you aren't in lectures or supervisions, College is keen to help you limit the need, so that you can use at least part of the time to rest, read and seek out new challenges.

The Foundation Essay Prize:

This is given for an essay on any subject, providing it was not written directly for your degree. Four prizes of up to £250 are available and the closing date is in May. Contact the Master's Secretary for details.

The Brewster Debate:

This takes place in the second term of each year and has a first prize of £100 for the two best speeches and £20 to the best contribution from the floor. The debate is usually about something topical.

Paid studies:

There are a number of paid psychology and medical studies that happen around the University. Some can pay very well and are usually not scary at all! Sign up for the mailing list at the Freshers' Fair or keep an eye on the Billy Bulletin.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

UNIVERSITY WIDE

28

All university-wide clubs and societies are organized by CUSU (Cambridge University Students Union). They publish a list of all clubs, which can be found online, and organise the Freshers' Fair at Kelsey Kerridge Sports Centre, which will be on the 8th & 9th October.

Ideally, you would go to the Freshers' Fair, see what clubs are on offer, and only sign up for what you are sure you will have time for. But what usually happens is you spray your new email address around to everyone in sight, stuff your pockets with as many freebies as you possibly can and your face with the free pizza there... and then spend 3 years getting annoying emails about Korfbal. Fortunately, there is always the opportunity to unsubscribe from a mailing list, accessed through Camsis or links at the bottom of the emails. Do try and go to as many squashes (see glossary) as possible, though, as they will usually have free food and drink and will give you more of a sense of what joining would be like.

Early in the year, trials will take place to join a University sports team. If you represent Cambridge against Oxford in a major sport, you get a Blue (see glossary); other sports award Half Blues. Most Blues sports have second teams, so you may still get to represent the university.

Make sure you attend the free events the Cambridge Union puts on throughout Freshers Week, particularly their first debate of the year which is always "This House has no confidence in Her Majesty's Government.". This is a great way to decide whether you think its worth investing in Cambridge Union Membership!

COLLEGE CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

All college clubs and societies are free to join, being funded by the JCR. Go to the societies fair, held on the first weekend of term, to see what's available. Alternatively, keep an eye on the screens and notice boards plus any emails that might come to your inbox. If the club or team you're looking for doesn't exist, contact the JCR Treasurer and set up the club yourself.

Fitzwilliam is well represented in most sports. The clubs also attract many people who want to release the tension of their academic work. The larger clubs run more than one team, so whatever your standard you will be able to play for college at your preferred sport. Sports Include:

Badminton

Fitz has its very own badminton court and a friendly club running weekly practices. All standards of player are welcome – we run social sessions as well as team practices – and you can come along as often as you wish. Each year, Fitz enters both Men's and Women's doubles teams into the intercollegiate leagues, as well as entering Cuppers.

Cricket

After a preposterously long barren period without a cricket cuppers win of 44 years, Fitz cricket has gone on to win the last 3 in succession, why not become part of this historic and record breaking Fitz side. We schedule fixtures around exams throughout Easter term and it makes for an excellent break from work. With numerous University-level players in the College 1st XI, Fitz will be expected to have a strong Cuppers campaign again this year. However, there will be plenty of opportunity for those of all cricketing abilities to shine through a range of 'friendly' fixtures against other colleges, local teams, the staff and the old boys. Winter nets take place during Lent term and will be rigorously observed for the slightest hint of hand-eye co-ordination.

Boat Club

Cambridge has a big (if you compare it to a stream) river running through the middle of it, and consequently rowing is a very popular sport. Fitz Boat Club aims to put out three men's and three women's novice crews. Each boat contains eight people plus a cox (who steers) and is coached by senior members of the club. Your crew will train together and enter races throughout the year, as well as attending socials with the other crews you crash into on the river. It is a great way to meet people, and, if that isn't enough persuasion, there are the infamous Boat Club Dinners to look forward to.

Women's Football

Football is one of Fitz's largest female team sports and Fitz's team is one of the most successful women's football teams in Cambridge. They have a big range of both experienced and inexperienced players. The team is great fun and holds a balance between fun casual play and a healthy amount of competitive energy. The team has weekly league or cup matches and is always welcoming new players.

Men's Football

The Football Club is the largest sports club at Fitz. The college is one of the University's strongest and always competes for League and Cup success. All abilities are catered for across the college's 3 teams, from complete beginners to those also hoping to represent the University. Fitz 1s and 2s play competitive matches weekly, while the 3s ensure everybody who wants to play football is satisfied. The Football Club stretches beyond playing, with other activities such as team socials, live Sky Sports in college and fantasy football. In the last two years, the 1s have won 1 league and 2 Cuppers, while the 2s has won their equivalent of Cuppers and achieved 2 successive promotions being crowned champions on both occasions) and are now the highest ranked 2s team in the uni (sitting high and pretty in division 2)

Hockey

Fitz has women's, men's and mixed hockey teams jointly with Trinity. They compete in league matches every weekend against the other colleges. As well as competing in league matches they also play Cuppers (which is another inter-collegiate league, but with knock-out rounds and a trophy for the winners at the end). All 3 'Titz' teams have reached their respective final in the last two years (men's, women's and mixed). All levels of ability are welcome with the team ranging from blues players (University 1st team) to total beginners. We are a very friendly and social team, doing at least one social event a term and often we'll head to Trinity for brunch after training.

COLLEGE CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

Netball

Fitz Netball Club is formed of one mixed and one ladies' team, both of whom have recently enjoyed impressive league performances. Netball is one of the biggest societies in Fitz and is open to all! Netball is certainly not just for girls, and we increasingly have more boys sign up than girls so come along and see if it's for you! Our season runs from October to March.

Pool

Fitzwilliam College has a free Pool table located in the JCR, as well as a Pool team that regularly enters into the College League as well as the Cuppers Tournament. The Fitz Pool Team welcomes players of all levels of skill and commitment and encourages all players to enjoy the game.

Men's Rugby Union

At Fitz the men's rugby team is very friendly and relaxed. Players of any level, from complete beginners to accomplished players, are all welcome to join in. The team have had some great success over the last few years in both the league and cuppers and play regular matches every week along with training. The rugby club is a great way to relax during term and also has an excellent social life. To get involved in rugby all you need to do is come to the Fitz Societies Fair and sign up or come along to one of the training sessions at the start of term.

Squash

Fitzwilliam College possesses two of the best courts in Cambridge. The courts are available for all to use and can easily be booked in the Porters' Lodge. The college will be entering several teams into the intercollege leagues (which are incredibly friendly, and non-pressurised), and in the cuppers competition, for both men and women. Fitz has a history of high performing squash teams; both men's and women's firsts will be pushing for cuppers glory this season. All standards are welcome so don't be put off giving it a go if you've never played before. Squash is among the most relaxed of the team sports in Fitz and games are arranged to suit both teams. You can of course play squash at Fitz without being part of the teams - if you don't have a racket there tend to be one or two kicking around at the Plodge, or you'll probably be able to borrow one as lots of Fitz undergrads have their own.

Swimming Club

Swimming is strong at Fitz, and over the last couple of years committed students have reinvigorated a club founded in 1985. The Swimming Club competes in the intercollegiate Cuppers competition held each year in Easter Term. The club has seen some great successes in Cuppers over the years. All competent swimmers are welcome, specific times are not requested, and the Club has members from all years.

Table

Tennis

Fitzwilliam has one of the strongest teams in the University. Nevertheless all levels of players are welcome specially beginners. Training happens regularly through the year during the weekends. We have a great squash court with an excellent table tennis table and multi balls for fast pace training. So we guarantee that after learning the basic movements it will be a good cardio exercise.

Tennis

Tennis fields strong Mens' and Ladies' teams to compete in Cuppers each year, and the socially as well. With our own new hard court at Oxford Road, facilities are excellent and everyone getting involved, whatever your level.

Other Fitz Societies to keep your eyes out for at the Fitzwilliam Societies Freshers fair:

- Running Club
- Women's Rugby
- Mixed Lacrosse
- Tennis

MUSIC AT FITZ

The musical life of Fitz is incredibly active and varied, and there is always an opportunity to get involved. There are excellent practice facilities in college for both individuals and ensembles, and there are a wide variety of music groups based at Fitz.

The Chapel Choir is an auditioned choir which sings for the chapel's choral service every Sunday, as well as performing at many of the college's important events throughout the year. There is also the opportunity to sing secular music at concerts and garden parties during the year.

The college is also home to two a cappella groups – the Fitz Sirens and Fitz Barbershop. Both regularly perform at events all over the university and beyond; they sing everything from jazz to pop.

Furthermore, the college's Music Society regularly organises both professional and student concerts.

Fitz Swing is a 20 piece big band which, although based at Fitz, takes in talented players from all over the university. With frequent gigs, social events and tours abroad, it's a great way to meet new people and have fun at Cambridge while at the same time playing some great music! Look for us on Facebook to have a listen to a track from our latest CD.

Fitzwilliam Barbershop and Fitz Sirens are the college's male and female acapella groups. They perform all sorts of music, and are often invited to perform both in Cambridge and across the world. Whilst this might all sound very serious, the groups are pretty low commitment and relaxed; only rehearsing for around two to four hours a week, and everyone has a say in how the group is run. If you have any interest in singing, they'd love you to come along for an audition! You don't need to have sung acapella before, been in a choir or be able to read music, you just need to be up for giving it a go! To book an audition slot come and find them at the Fresher's Fair, or get in touch via social media.

OTHER SOCIETIES

Academic Societies

Most subjects organise social events at both a University and College level. Your Director of Studies or the older students will inform you of events in Fitz. Subject-specific talks are also often arranged by College and University societies. Also, keep an eye out for try-outs for our University Challenge Team ran by our Academic Affairs Officer!

ArtSoc

A new society at Fitz, which aims to provide artistic opportunities alongside other like-minded people at low or no cost for all students at Fitz. We are hoping to extend the art pieces that the college owns by student made master pieces, organize creative evenings with the other Hill Colleges and establish a photography community within the College with permanent exhibitions. Even if you just want some time to paint/draw/make things alone, the ArtSoc can show you where our secret and expertly hidden art room is, as well as possibly helping purchase materials to make your ideas become reality.

Fitz Chapel

Fitz Chapel is not exactly a “society”, but it is an interesting place to get to know. The Chapel is a wonderful building, but the people make it what it is! We are welcoming to all faiths. We have regular Sunday worship at 11am and 6pm in term-time, and midweek, which is Christian in tradition, but we hope to meet together at different times to support those exploring faith matters, or anyone who has no faith at all! The Chapel has a choir for those who like to sing, and we welcome all musicians.

Fitz Enterprise

FitzEnterprise was founded to discuss ways to develop and inspire more entrepreneurial spirits among our students past and present. It aims to empower young founder with world-class knowledge and connect them with alumni and each other. Our raison d’être is to educate, inspire and connect entrepreneurially minded Fitzwilliam members.

Fitz Debating Society

Whether or not you have debated before, the Fitz Debating Society has something for all abilities and aims to provide an open and inclusive place for public speaking and discussion. Workshops, debates and panel discussions are held throughout each term, providing the opportunity to improve your own technique, debate a range of contemporary issues and interact with both students and a host of guest speakers.

LGBT+ Society

First year rooms are notoriously small, with limited storage space, so there is no room for you in your closet as well. The JCR officers in college, in alliance with the university wide campaign, put on a vast array of events and maintain many branches of support. From a weekly LGBT+ club night to calmer coffee socials, there’s something for everyone. Both the college reps and CUSU run completely confidential mailing lists to keep you up to date with everything that’s happening. Just Google CUSU LGBT+ or drop officer Alex Burns a line at jcr.lgbt@fitz.cam.ac.uk.

Fitz Theatre

Last year Fitz Theatre returned after years of not being ran. President Caolan McConaughie produced Private Peaceful, ‘A Musical Guide to the Cambridge Colleges’, and many other smaller performances. This year Fitz Theatre is ready for some truly extraordinary shows. See Caolan at the Freshers Fair or message him any time!

The Goat Post

The Goat Post is Fitz’s termly magazine and is overseen by the JCR Publications Officer Leon Reason. It is written and edited by Fitz students for Fitz students and gives everyone the opportunity to have their voice heard around College. Those involved in designing and editing the magazine have the chance to explore their skills in journalism and provides a platform into editing for the university newspapers.

To get involved, email the Publications Officer Leon Reason at: jcr.publications@fitz.cam.ac.uk

A WORD ON DRINKING SOCIETIES

A sculpture of a dog, possibly a bulldog, constructed from a dense network of dark, thin sticks and twigs. The sculpture is positioned on a light-colored concrete base. In the background, there is a brick wall and a window reflecting the outdoors. The overall scene is lit with natural light, suggesting an outdoor or well-lit indoor setting.

The following message has been prepared by our JCR President Ellie. We'd appreciate that you read it and ask us any questions, either confidentially using the google link (mentioned previously), or via the website contact link:

“Whilst for some people drinking societies can be a way to make friends from all years, they are usually based on exclusivity through invite-only admission, potentially creating an unwelcoming environment. This has translated into societies feeling overwhelming and even dangerous for some people, notably women, LGBT+ people, people of colour, and people from Class Act backgrounds. The JCR does not advocate nor represent any drinking societies. Any complaints about drinking societies or the behaviour of certain individuals can be made confidentially to the JCR President, JCR Welfare team officers such as the Women's and Non Binary Officers Cerian and Priya, and college officials. All complaints will be taken seriously.”

If you want to do your own digging, then the Cambridge Student press has covered them extensively in the past 6 months. See Varsity Paper, The Tab Cambridge, The Cambridge Student and statements by CUSU (Cambridge University Students' Union).

EXTRAS AT FITZ

Fitz Sessions

A fantastic night of live music and performances in the bar. A few times a year, everybody goes to the bar to watch Fitz's musical talent (and a few acts brought in from around Cambridge). Barbershop, acoustic, Indie-pop bands, poetry, comedy all welcome to perform on a night not to missed. Just search for 'Fitz Sessions' on Facebook to check it out.

The Fitzwilliam Society Careers Fair

The Careers Fair takes place every November (it's on Saturday 9th November, 3:30-5:30pm this year) and is held in the buttery. Do you want friendly answers to your career questions, plus advice on how to secure that graduate job, internship or spring week placement? Around 40 Fitz alumni representing a wide range of jobs will be coming back to the College for the Careers Fair to chat to Fitz students about what they do. This special annual event is a relaxed and informal opportunity to find out more about what different jobs are like, so make sure you drop in! There's no need to book, and free tea and biscuits will be on offer. It's never too early to start thinking about careers, and the contacts you make now may help with securing vacation work experience, which will make a big difference when graduation comes. Look out for emails, posters and flyers advertising the Careers Fair later this term. There's no need to book, just drop in on the day! The Careers Fair is organised by the development office with the help of the Fitzwilliam Society, which keeps Fitzwilliam members – past and present - in touch with each other and the College.

EXTRAS AT FITZ

Formal Hall

Formal Halls are a popular way to celebrate birthdays and entertain guests. Unlike Buttery food, you get your dinner served. You can bring wine if you like, but you have to get corks removed at the bar beforehand. Everyone dresses in formal wear (suit and tie needed for men) and their gown. You have to book a ticket in advance using the online billing service. You can also buy tickets for up to ten guests for most normal Formal Halls, who don't need to wear gowns. Contact the Steward's Secretary (Lorraine Evans) if you wish to entertain more than ten guests. Bookings and cancellations are available until 2pm two days beforehand. You should request any special dietary needs by then. The Formal Hall itself starts at 7.30pm. Undergrads should be seated by that time (a gong will sound) and then stand while Fellows enter and say Grace. This may all sound a bit uptight and joyless, but you wait until the food & wine start flowing.

Superhalls

Superhalls happen about twice a term. These are big themed fancy dress affairs. The main Superhalls in the first term are generally the 'Family Superhall' (there'll be posters up giving you the low-down) Halloween and 'Fitzmas', when even the Fellows can't resist getting involved. Remember to buy tickets early, as they sell out quickly. Superhalls are usually followed by a bar extension and a bop (see Glossary). The lucky few might even get to sit with the Master.

Fitz Ski

Every year Fitz holds an annual ski trip to the French Alps. All levels of ski experience are welcome and it's a great way to mingle with other Fitz students, graduate as well as undergraduate. It's always reasonably priced too (for skiing that is), so why not go for it? Other Fitz Fun!

COLLEGE FACILITIES

Café/Bar

As we've mentioned, Fitzwilliam has a great café, open from 8am until 6pm, serving a selection of cakes, coffees and other delights, and even bacon sandwiches at breakfast! The staff are friendly and the prices are cheap. In the evening the area doubles as a bar, serving a good selection of drinks and snacks at half the price of some of the bars and pubs in town. Everything can be paid for on your college card, and both serve as great places to socialise, relax and catch up with friends. The bar also has a board game borrowing scheme where you can freely borrow any board game for 48 hours!

Chapel

Fitzwilliam Chapel is ecumenical, and Christians of all denominations are encouraged to take part in Chapel life. Whether you consider yourself a Christian or not, Chaplin Rev Graham Stevenson welcomes you to the services which are held every Sunday, as well as his weekly mindfulness sessions. There are links with the neighbouring college, Murray Edwards, whose members also attend services. During 'full term', regular Sunday services are held in the Chapel: you can find out more about these on our Services and Events page and from the Chapel Term Card. The Chapel also has designated quiet times for private prayer and meditation. The Director of Music is Cat (Catherine) Groom. She oversees all musical activities in the College and is closely involved with the work of the Chapel Choir. Please contact Cat if you wish to discuss any aspect of College or Chapel music.

Social Space

We have two common rooms in the Central Buildings, the JCR, formally the Walter Grave Room, and the DeSmith ("TV") room. The first has seen a number of changes this year, and can now boast free pool, a projector and vending machine. The second is commonly known as the TV room, where you can always find somebody to watch the footy with and, if you get in before the sports fans, anything else that Sky has to offer. We've recently updated our subscription to Sky HD. We also have a Nintendo Wii for anyone to pick up and embarrass themselves with (although it has been known to be temperamental). Alternative spaces and arrangements will be made. For a bit more peace and quiet, there's the Fitzwilliam Society Common Room on O staircase, above the archway from Fellows' Court to New Court and open to all. In there is another TV as well as comfy chairs.

Gym

We have a gym round the back of the south side of college! It's free to use: all you'll have to do is sign up outside for an induction and you're good to go.

COLLEGE FACILITIES

Oxford Road Playing Fields

Just round the corner from college the JCR owns the best playing fields that any Cambridge College has to offer: university teams ask to play here all the time. Importantly the fields were dedicated in 1923 'to the forty-three from Fitzwilliam Hall who fell in the Great War.' Oxford Road is not just for the sporting teams of Fitz. If anybody wishes to use the fields, just ask the great Dave Norman (groundsman) and he'll point you in the right direction. It boasts tennis courts (concrete), a netball court, football pitches (5 a side and full pitches), cricket pitches and rugby pitch. Throughout the year there are also activities up there such as the 5-a-side football league in the final term to give a bit of a break from revision.

Allotments

Fitzwilliam has an allotment society composed of grads and undergrads. Under the watchful eye of green-fingered gardener Steve – who, thankfully, actually knows how to grow things – the society manages the five raised beds behind Wilson Court, not just for the benefit of the students who garden there, but for the whole college. The beds are a space for anyone to use simply by joining the mailing list, and we would like the results to be shared as widely as possible with all students. That might be individuals grabbing some parsley to pop in their supper, courgette cakes for the JCR and MCR to enjoy, or a pumpkin pie cooking session when autumn rolls around. It will be a space for people to learn more about gardening, to take some time out from the stresses and strains of Cambridge, and to have a real sense of community. As far as possible we'll be running the allotments completely organically, and if slugs decimate our lettuces, or snails our herbs, then we'll consult everyone who uses the beds on how we'll solve the problem.

Music

The Music Room and Practice Room complex is in the Auditorium building. If you wish to use these rooms you should sign out the keys from the South Porters' Lodge (Storey's Way side). The Music Rooms contain a Bosendorfer grand piano and a number of other pianos, a harpsichord and the college tympani. It also has two guitar amplifiers, a bass amplifier and a drum kit. The Chapel has an organ, built by Peter Collins, a Steinway grand piano and a Godel harpsichord. We normally request that users of these instruments have obtained Grade 8 in performance. The Director of Music, Cat Groom, may contact you by email regarding musical instrument use.

Party Rooms

The Gaskoin, DeSmith (not until March), and Reddaway Rooms (central building), Trust Room (bottom L) and the Stretton Room (bottom O) (see the 'Eating at Fitz' section of this handbook) may be hired by any college member. For booking, speak to the Steward's Secretary in L staircase.

LIVING A GREEN LIFESTYLE

Fitzwilliam is a really environmentally friendly college! Helped by an active college Environment Committee, and the JCR's Ethical Affairs sub-committee, everyone from the Fellows to the students are involved in making college life more sustainable and less wasteful. Every year the college gets fully involved with green events and Fairtrade Fortnight. In the past year we've had a great selection of events, from the Fairtrade formal and Fairtrade wine tasting to the annual "Fitz off" competition. Green initiatives never stop and steps towards food waste recycling have been made over the past 8 months. This year has been a particularly great year for Fitz wildlife too! We have seen peacocks, weasels, ducks laying eggs in college grounds and we are a newly accredited hedgehog sanctuary and hedgehog hospitals use Fitz as a place to return them to the wild!

Some Green Tips to Live By:

Make your money, and the planet, last longer: compared to meat, vegetables use less carbon and less of your cash. Shut the windows if the heating's on, especially in winter (the frames are draughty enough as it is). Save energy and reduce future rents! Keep your belongings out of the way of the heater; it'll help your room get warmer quicker. Turn off your radiator when you leave for vacations!. Use recycling receptacles as per the guidelines on your kitchen notice boards (ask the JCR Green Officer Alexandria if you're unsure!). Turn off your lights before you go out.

Recycling receptacles are provided by college in each kitchen. They are for paper & cardboard, cans, tins and foils, stiff plastics (i.e. plastic, bottles, trays and pots; NOT carrier bags or crisp packets), tetra packs, glass – use the separate blue bags for this Please compress and clean your waste as much as possible. Electronic items (e.g. mobile phones), batteries, crisp packets and printer cartridges can be recycled at the Porters' Lodge. The black kitchen bins are for all non-recyclable waste, including food.

If you have any questions or ideas about greening Fitz, or want to know where Fitz stands on current issues such as Ethical Investment and the Living Wage (short answer: not bad, but we want it better), get in touch with the JCR Green and Ethical Affairs officers. Also, take a look at <http://www.fitzjcr.com/ethical> and like the Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/FitzEthicalAffairs>.

TECH SUPPORT

All students can connect to the college network via their personal computers, either by using an ethernet cable (there should already be one in your room, or the Porters have a supply if not) or by logging on wirelessly.

When on other university sites, you can log into the UniofCam or Eduroam networks to get WiFi in your departments (the former is easier as you can log on using Raven). Outside college both of these networks are free to use. Your web usage is covered by your college bill and thus you should not need to worry about it, especially as you have an unlimited usage – so make the most of it (steer clear from those Netflix binges...).

The College has a computer room for undergraduates, which is situated in the basement of the library. Access is gained with your uni card and the computer room is open 24 hours a day. This room has 10 PCs and 3 Macs. The PCs are managed as a part of the University's Managed Cluster Service (MCS) maintained by University Computing Service Desktop Services, which means that they should work the same way as other MCS computers throughout the University. The Desktop Services provide a central file space (DS-Filestore), which is directly linked to your MCS account, so you can get to your files wherever you are in the University. To use any MCS facilities you use your MCS credentials (which you'll sort out at the beginning of the year). You can also map the DS-Filestore to your personal computer and access files when on the college or university WiFi.

The use of the network is subject to the University's rules, which prohibit the use of the network for any illegal activity. This means, among other things, the unauthorised downloading of copyright protected material e.g. films, TV programmes and music. The College acts decisively on complaints received about this activity and it could result in disconnection and possible disciplinary action.

On the first day, your corridor reps will help you log in to the WIFI.

TV Licences

There are new rules and regulations being put in place this year with regards to TV licences. You now may need a license to watch BBC iPlayer! You should be absolutely fine but just make sure you don't break the rules regarding the licensing agreements. If you want to watch live television on a broadcaster website (iPlayer, ITV Player, 4oD etc) then you need a licence. If you watch any catch-up TV on a broadcaster website (iPlayer, ITV Player etc) while you are plugged into the mains, you are not covered by any home licence so you need to buy one. If you watch catch-up TV whilst you are on battery power (ie not connected to mains), you do not need an additional licence. If you do not watch any catchup TV service by a broadcaster but use other subscription services (Netflix, Amazon Prime, etc) you do not need a licence.

Printing

There are three printers in the library that can each print on both A4 and A3, in colour and double-sided. They also double up as photocopiers and scanners. To use the printer you need only tap your uni card on it and a list of anything that you've sent to print will be displayed. You can print to them from the computer rooms or from your own PC (you will need to install some software to do this. See the Computing section of the website for details). Charges are made for printing: 6p for A4 black and white, and 18p for A4 colour. A further list of prices for other sizes can be found by the printers themselves.

Email

Email is the normal way to communicate in Cambridge, and Hermes, the University's email system, will become your new best friend. The College, course organisers and supervisors will frequently contact you by email, so it is essential to check yours regularly. It's possible to get your emails sent directly to your phone or mailbox on your laptop, and guides on how to do so can be found on the University website. The JCR also send out a lot of messages via email, such as the weekly Billy Bulletin/President's newsletter. All that we ask is you at least read the first one we send you and hope you don't get bored of them after that point.

Your Tutor

Your Tutor is a Fellow who will usually remain with you for your Cambridge career. His or her academic subject is deliberately not your own so that you can raise any problem about your course or supervisors without treading on the toes of your Tutor's immediate colleagues. Any matter, whether trivial or traumatic, academic, social, financial, medical or to do with your home life can be brought to your Tutor's attention. Although you can expect your tutor to deal sensitively with any issue, you are perfectly welcome to contact another tutor if you would prefer to discuss a particular matter with them. Other jobs of your Tutor:

- Advising on academic issues, work/life balance etc.
- Advising on personal matters, if you wish
- Advising on matters, such as travel grants, funds, exams and Statutes
- Advising on financial problems
- Acting as a referee in job applications, whether permanent or temporary
- Representing your interests if you get into trouble with the College, University, or Police
- Supporting you should you be taken ill
- Discussing the possibility of changing subjects, and initiating such a change.
- Meeting your Tutor at the beginning and end of every term (including your first term of first year) is compulsory, even if you have nothing specific to discuss. This is so your Tutor can keep up to date on your situation.

Peer Supporters

Working alongside the JCR Welfare Committee, a number of students at the College are Peer Supporters, trained by the University Counselling Service to discuss your options in any situation confidentially and non-judgementally. Contact them at peersupport@fitz.cam.ac.uk or via <http://fitzpeersupport.wordpress.com/>. Similarly Linkline is a student run 'active listening' organisation open from 7pm to 8am during term time. The telephone number is 01223 367 575.

College Counsellor

Mary Cavander Attwood is based at Murray Edwards College (next door to Fitzwilliam). Students can contact her direct, to arrange a meeting: counsellor@fitz.cam.ac.uk.

University Counselling Service

This employs professionally trained counsellors (both male and female), for students to talk to about any problems: emotional, sexual, social or psychological. It is best to contact the Counselling Service via your Tutor, but you can contact them directly if you prefer on 01223 332865 or at www.counselling.cam.ac.uk. If you feel desperate, you will be seen quickly. Both these services are free and confidential.

College Families

Your college parents will have seen it all and done it all before (probably)! They can be an excellent source of advice on everything to do with Cambridge life and academics and are usually always available for a chat. Take advantage of them – they signed up as parents for a reason!

Health Problems

- Cambridge Student Health provides comprehensive advice on health and local services in Cambridge for all students.
- Huntingdon Road Surgery is the closest – register there in the first week.
- College Nurse, Dee Williams can advise on any health problems. Email: nurse@fitz.cam.ac.uk. The College Nurse's open surgery times are as follows: (No appointments are necessary) Mondays 11:00 - 13:00; Tuesdays 08:30 - 10:30; Wednesdays 13:30 - 15:30; Thursdays 09:30 - 11:30; Fridays 11:30 - 13:00. If your health issues are
- affecting your work, contact your tutor.

PLACES FOR SUPPORT

42

The JCR Welfare Team

The job of the JCR Welfare Executives is to be there for you with friendly advice and support for almost anything! They are both happy to chat about whatever you'd like, from buying a bike to contraception advice. They are well-acquainted with the avenues of support within the university, so if there is nothing they can do for you they are there to point you in the right direction towards people or organisations that can help. It's important to remember that there should be no stigma attached to being unhappy, depressed, or simply just not enjoying your Freshers' Week. Freshers' Week is not always for everyone and you may quite easily find you enjoy the rest of the first term much more. If you have any niggling problems before you arrive in Cambridge, or even when you first arrive, you can contact them by email. Please do not hesitate to contact them with any problems to do with your first few weeks in Cambridge. You can also anonymously request contraception from them. More details can be found at <http://www.fitzjcr.com/the-welfare-team.html>

Black and Ethnic Minorities Officer

The Ethnic Minorities Officer aims to promote equal opportunities for Black and Ethnic Minority (BME) students throughout college and work closely with the Target and Access team and the International Officer to ensure that we can maintain and even increase Fitz's current diversity. Over the course of the year there will be a number of events to celebrate the ethnic diversity within Fitz, such as swaps and food festivals. The Ethnic Minorities Officer is also happy to chat if you have any concerns or suggestions, which she can voice at JCR meeting or to college/CUSU if necessary. Contact: jcr.ethnicminorities@fitz.cam.ac.uk

JCR Women's and Non-Binary Officers

Though the college has been mixed for 30 years now, 600 years of an exclusively male university has left a gender deficit that has yet to be fully rectified. The JCR therefore has a Women's officers, who are available to all genders to discuss anything relating to women or gender in Cambridge. Contact: jcr.womens@fitz.cam.ac.uk

JCR LBGT+ Officer

Another aspect of Fitz's welfare support is our LBGT+ Officer (Lesbian, Bisexual, Gay, Trans, Plus). Their job is to provide support and information for Fitz's LBGT+ students, as well as organising 'swaps' followed by Cambridge's infamous gay night. Feel free to get in touch at jcr.lgbt@fitz.cam.ac.uk with any problems or questions, and the officer will also be around in Freshers' Week. In addition, CUSU LBGT+ run an LBGT+ Parenting Scheme for freshers, which is a fantastic way to make new friends and meet people who can answer any questions you might have about LBGT+ (and indeed non-LBGT+) things in Cambridge. Visit www.lgbt.cusu.cam.ac.uk/freshers to find out more and sign up if you're interested.

JCR Disabilities Officer

The Disabilities Officer is there to represent the needs of disabled students in college and at JCR committee meetings. They can offer advice on any issues or answer questions on disability-related topics. In addition they maintain strong links with CUSU and will attend the CUSU Disabled Students' Campaign meetings and communicate information back to the college community.

International Officer

Moving to a foreign country is a fantastic thing that can enrich every aspect of your personality. However, it can also be a difficult experience, and your International Officer is there to make adaptation as smooth and pain-free as possible. It is important to encourage integration right from the off, and the JCR hope to be there to assist international freshers any way we can. During the rest of the year, your International Officer will be in touch at all times to listen to and deal with particular issues that might affect your everyday lives. Building bridges is key to diversity and multiculturalism, and this is something that the JCR would like to encourage. The JCR International Officer hopes to establish a platform for this through events such as foreign cinema nights, national days and language-swap evenings, giving everybody the opportunity to learn something new. There are many difficulties inherent to moving from afar, and the International Officer is here to ensure that you're free to enjoy and celebrate your culture, religion and lifestyle unimpeded. Contact: jcr.international@fitz.cam.ac.uk or check out the following links:

TROUBLE SHOOTING

Money Problems

If things get desperate, contact your Tutor. The College won't let it get to a stage where you cannot afford food. Even if the bursary fund deadlines have passed, if your situation is desperate the college will ensure that you can continue to live, as long as your reasons for financial difficulty are valid. For any questions regarding your bill contact college.bills@fitz.cam.ac.uk.

Academic Problems

- Talk to other students to see if they are having similar difficulties. Compare notes with supervision partners, etc.
- Talk to your supervisor as early as possible after the problem becomes apparent.
- If you cannot talk to your supervisor, or get no response, speak to your Director of Studies.
- If you cannot speak to your DoS, speak to your Tutor or the Senior Tutor, or to the Departmental Course Organizer (depending on your subject).
- The Academic Affairs Officer has immediate College contacts to speed up the process if you feel you are not getting anywhere. If in doubt, ask.
- Don't delay– the problem could get worse. Be sure to document your problems in the termly supervisions questionnaire and the Lent and Easter Terms student self assessment questionnaire.
- If you have any other questions or queries, contact JCR Academic Affairs Officer Poppy, no matter how insignificant they may seem.

Problems in College

Linen, cleaning issues, guest room bookings and staying in College outside the residence period (undergraduates) contact the Housekeeping and Accommodation Office. Broken furniture, heating not working, blocked sinks and toilets, any electrical appliance not working (this applies only to those items that the College provides), or any other routine maintenance jobs contact the Maintenance Department. You can create a helpdesk ticket to contact them by going to: <https://services.fitz.cam.ac.uk/FIP/live/index.php/site/login>. If you have any other problems regarding your accommodation you should contact Diane Pickles in K staircase or consult the JCR Vice President, who serves as the student Accommodation Officer.

GLOSSARY

Cambridge is full of weird and wonderful words that are used almost solely in the bubble, if you want to keep up with all the latest lingo and be able to understand anyone, then here is a handy guide to some of the most widely used terms...

Billy: Small boy or goat, who is the personification of College Spirit. For example, our sports teams often play for 'Billy Pride'. Also a common way of referring to Fitz in general. A Fitz student is a 'Fitzbilly'.

Blue: Someone who has represented Cambridge against Oxford at certain sports. Refers to the person and to the award itself: you are a Blue if you have a Blue. They get to wear a, er, nice shade of pale blue.

Boatie: Rower.

Bubble: Cambridge in term time; lack of knowledge of affairs outside of Cambridge or even the buttery. You'll see.

Bumps: A race that boatie people do at various times of the year—the aim being to 'bump' into the boat in front. And break it. Great fun to watch in Fen Ditton village just outside Cambridge).

Buttery: Canteen.

CompSci: Pronounced 'Comp-Skee'. Someone who studies Computer Science.

Cuppers: intercollegiate sports tournament.

CUSU: Cambridge University Student Union.

Desmond: Another way of saying Lower Second Class Honours (Desmond Tutu = 2:2)

Domestic Bursar: the person in charge of college facilities. For the historians, the Domestic Bursar used to be called the 'Manciple'.

Ents and Bops: Bad, bad names for college entertainments. Bops are free discos, with a DJ and a bar extension. Ents are larger events, with several rooms, bars and distractions.

Check out Clare's, King's and Queens' (and Fitz's, obviously!).

Fellow: One of the senior members of the college, engaged in research and/or teaching.

Formal Hall: A dinner where you wear a suit and gown, and bring your own bottle.

Superhall: bigger, fancy dress version of Formal Hall where most of the college turn up.

GLOSSARY

Gyp Room: Kitchen. Stick with kitchen... for your sake.

High Table: A raised table in the dining hall where the Fellows usually sit.

'Hill Colleges': Fitz, Churchill, Murray Edwards, St Edmunds, Lucy Cavendish and Girton somehow).

Mature Students: Students who have been away from full-time education for 3 years or more. Not always mature.

Michaelmas: The Cambridge name for the first term, followed by Lent and Easter.

Natsci: (Not Nat-skee) Saying natural scientist is a bit tiresome after a while. Don't, however, use this term outside of the 'Bridge. In fact, best not to use any stupid Cambridge words when not in the bubble (see bubble, the) or sometimes when in the bubble. Natscis can be 'bio' or 'phys' (biological or physical).

Pidge: pigeon-hole: a row of boxes in the Porters' Lodge where all your mail and messages are put. Check yours often!

Porters: All-knowing, all-seeing people who live in the Plodge.

Plodge: Porters' lodge.

Redit Exeat: The books you MUST sign at the start and end of each term

Screens: The notice boards outside the Buttery.

Squash: A meeting of a society in the first few weeks of term, where current members persuade Freshers to sign up or the club.

Suicide Sunday: The first day of May Week.

Tab: Refers to someone from Cambridge, short for Cantabrigian. Also the name of the online student newspaper.

Varsity: A student newspaper, as is 'The Cambridge Student', or 'TCS'. Also an annual sports match between Cambridge and Oxford. There's also a bar/spa/hotel with the same name.

LAST FEW WORDS

And finally last, but certainly not least, how about G.O.A.T???: The Greatest Of All Time (which Fitz is) ... okay I made that up, kind of. But we do have our own college goat who is sponsored by the Tutorial Office. The splendid Pooky is pictured below!

If you have actually persevered and got to this point, then well done, you should give yourself a pat on the back or something. If you haven't, then well, you did exactly what I did before I came to Fitz. Reiterating what we said before, we are all so excited to meet all of you and we hope that your preparations are as trouble free as possible. Don't forget to ask us any and all questions, as well as your college parents. The wide support and advice networks on offer here should hopefully have you settling in easily in no time! I should probably stop speaking now, just don't forget to keep this booklet and the freshers' timetable safe and in easy reach for any time you should need any relevant information!

Lots of Love,

Ellie, Emily, Henry, and the rest of the JCR team.
